Dear Charlie,

The Nunavut Planning Commission would like to provide the following brief update to ensure that you remain informed regarding our activities. If there is anything you would like to discuss with the Commission, we encourage you to contact us at any time.

Over the last several months, the Commission has continued our ongoing efforts to develop a Draft Nunavut Land Use Plan. We are pleased to note that the independent third party review of the Commission's planning process that was requested by government is proceeding on schedule. The Commission looks forward to its completion in June, and is confident that this review will provide welcomed support to all parties as we move forward together to develop a Draft Plan.

Following the completion of the third party review, the Commission intends to make the Draft Plan public in the summer and begin community consultations in November 2012. In order to prepare for the public release of the Draft Plan and subsequent community meetings, the Commission is currently developing appropriate schedules and arranging necessary logistics, including advertisements, website updates, and briefing materials.

We encourage the Kitikmeot Inuit Association to participate in our community tour as we discuss land use activities in the Kitikmeot. The Commission would be pleased to meet with you to discuss opportunities to work together and our timeline for the consultation in the Kitikmeot communities.

The Commission looks forward to continuing to work together to implement the requirements of the Nunavut Land Claims Agreement in an effective and timely manner.

Respectfully,
